MACKENSEN BLOCKS RETREAT OF ENEMY

Cernavoda and Bridge Over Danube Are Captured by the Bulgarians.

BLOW SERIOUS ONE

Bucharest Open to Attack From East—One Army Cut Off From Aid.

By United Press

BERLIN, Oct. 25.—Cernavoda, eastern terminus of the great 14-mile railway bridge crossing the Danube into Rumania, was captured by Field Marshal von Mackensen's army this morning, it was officially announced this afternoon.

The victory is regarded as vastly more important than the capture of the seaport of Constanza several days ago.

Loss of Cernavoda is admitted by the Russian war office and by Bucharest. Dispatches from these points say it is a more serious blow to the Rumanians from the military standpoint than the fall of Constanza. It not only cuts off the retreat of the Russo-Rumanian armies driven from the Constanza-Cernavoda Railway but opens up the way for a drive on Bucharest from the east, while von Falkenhayn's Austro-German armies are advancing from the west.

The defeated Russo-Rumanian armies driven northward from the railway are in a precarious position, the Russian official statement indicated.

No other bridges cross the Danube north of Cernavoda, and it appears probable that unless a large part of the Russo-Rumanian forces escaped across the bridge before Cernavoda was taken they will be trapped east of the Danube, suffering the fate of the Rumanians at Tutrakan fortress, where 20,000 prisoners were taken.

On the Transylvania frontier Falkenhayn has won another great victory, capturing the famous Vulkan Pass.

GERMANS SHELL BRITISH LINE

Two Attacks on Positions Taken by French Near Verdun Fail.

By United Press

LONDON, Oct. 25.—The Germans shelled the British front northeast of Courcellette and also along the Baupenne road with great violence last night as if in preparation for a great counter-attack. General Haig reported this evening that a heavy rain was impeding further operations.

Two violent German counter-attacks were delivered today against the French positions on the Dambloup line, southeast of Verdun, won by the French in yesterday's great assault, said a dispatch from Paris tonight. Both attacks failed. The French spent the night and this morning cleaning up Fort Douaumont, captured from the Germans yesterday. Among the 3,500 prisoners is the German commander of Fort Douaumont.

Student Senate Is Lenient With Three First-Time Offenders.

Hunt, Jr., were examined and warned to wear their caps from now until Thanksgiving Day. Mr. Hannigan, president of the Senate, said: "If these men will faithfully comply with all student rules from now on and wear their caps, no action will be taken at present, but if they are reported again the cases will be treated seriously and drastic action taken."

SERIES TICKET SALE TO BEGIN TOMORROW

Hofmann Offered As Opening "Extra"—St. Louis Symphony Next.

MAX ZACH TO LEAD

Phi Mu Alpha Program Includes Maud Powell and Olive Kline.

The first activity of the Phi Mu Alpha concert series for the season will begin tomorrow morning with the sale of season tickets and tickets for the concert of Josef Hofmann. In former years long lines have waited for the opening of the sale, anxious to obtain a desirable seat for the season's offerings.

The program for this year is especially well rounded. Instrumental and vocal music are mingled. Soloists and ensemble numbers alternate. Beginning with the "extra concert" by Josef Hofmann, who is recognized by critics as one of the great piano virtuosos of the day, the program is equal to that of last season, when the series was opened by the concert of Fritz Kreisler.

The opening ensemble number, the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra, will be of merit. The orchestra this year will have eighty members, under the direction of Max Zach, who has already won favor in Columbia. A soloist whose name has not yet been announced will also be a part of the offering.

Maud Powell is a violinist known to every American audience. Olive Kline is a soprano familiar to all for her work with one of the large producers of phonographic records. She is presented for the second time on a program of Phi Mu Alpha. Her first appearance a few years ago was prevented on account of illness.

HYPHENISM THE ISSUE

Hughes Answers Democratic Charges—Ford Makes Wilson Men Happy.

By United Press
NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—While political candidates today prepared for the beginning of the end, hyphenism still played the foremost role in the campaign drama.

Hughes' declaration last night that he did not want the votes of anyone "whose allegiance to our flag is not single and complete" was generally interpreted as the hyphen.

Hughes is booked for another Brooklyn speech tonight and may let forth another anti-hyphen blast. Then tomorrow he will start on a New England, New York, Ohio and Indiana swing.

President Wilson is journeying westward from a Cincinnati address. In the meantime political headquarters here are hurling back and forth their charges of hyphenism against their enemies.

Democratic circles rejoice today over Henry Ford's agreement to start a national newspaper advertising campaign for Wilson, especially in New York. Democratic leaders saw hope for winning women's votes in Ford's announcement that he had put his women workers on the $5-a-day minimum wage, after his "inspiring" talk with President Wilson.

2 WORKMEN KILLED, ONE INJURED, WHEN SEWER WALL SLIPS

Joe Marsh and Charles Forsee, Latter Married, Die in West Ash Street Accident—Lewis Via Hurt.

RESCUERS DIG HALF AN HOUR IN SEARCH

Cave-in This Afternoon Is Without Warning—4 Laborers Endangered—Garth Clinkscales Contractor.

Joe Marsh and Charles Forsee, two laborers in the employ of the Garth Clinkscales Construction Company, were killed instantly at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon when one side of a seventeen-foot ditch which they were working in on Ash street, near Garth avenue, caved in, burying them. Lewis Via, a workman in the ditch, was injured.

The cave-in came without any warning. A square of dirt ten feet in length and breadth and approximately two feet in depth slid down into the ditch, burying the men. Via and other men working on the ditch dug out the bodies. The body of Marsh was recovered after one-half hour, and Forsee's body was reached thirty minutes later. When found the bodies were crushed by the weight of the dirt.

Via was hit on the head by the handle of the windlass he was guarding. His injuries are slight. Joe Marsh was 21 years old and unmarried and lived at 215 North McBaine avenue. Charles Forsee was 48 years old and married and lived on Hollis avenue. An inquest was held by Coroner E. G. Davis immediately after the accident.

The ditch is being dug by the construction company for a sewer, and sixteen men have been working in it for six weeks. This is the first trouble which they have had.

"I was working outside the ditch," Via, the injured man, said this afternoon, "when the north wall without any warning slid down, burying Forsee and Marsh. It was done before I realized what had happened. I went down to dig them out after I was struck on the head by the handle of the windlass. Roy Benegitz, the only other workman in that part of the ditch, came to me and the remainder of the workmen soon began to dig the buried men out. I don't know how it happened."

TELEPHONE COMPANY IS SUED

Charles Sinclair Asks $15,000 in Court for Alleged Injuries.

Sinclair took the stand and said that while driving along the Old Township Road the top of his buggy caught on a wire belonging to the local company which was hanging over the road, causing him to run away and throwing him from the buggy into the road. He appeared in court on crutches.
